About Christmas Cove

Christmas Cove is one of Australia's Geological Monuments cut out by glacial movement 240 million years ago. It's the perfect place to start your marine wildlife safari. Dolphins and seals are only minutes away from the marina, which is the safest and easiest access marina on Kangaroo Island.

About Kangaroo Island

Matthew Flinders was the first European explorer to discover Kangaroo Island in 1802. He named it Kangaroo Island, because of the abundance of kangaroos he saw when he came to shore near Penneshaw. Come out on a Kangaroo Island Ocean Safari and you will be explained why Kangaroo Island has a coast line named in French and one in English and provide geological information on some of the oldest coastline on Kangaroo Island being approx 550 million years old.

Nicolas Baudin, who came to shore inscribed his details into "Frenchman's Rock" in Hog Bay, Penneshaw. You can see Frenchman's Rock as the cruise pass by in Penneshaw's sheltered waters on Kangaroo Island's favourite Ocean Safari. You will taken on a 75 minute coastal and wildlife tour around the beautiful coastline of Kangaroo Island, providing historical facts along the way.

You will be amazed when you see places like Dolphin Cove, Cuttlefish Bay, Kangaroo Head and Snapper Point. Kangaroo Island truly is one of the most desirable destinations for tourist travel and this Ocean Safari provides one of the most exceptional Kangaroo Island experiences.

Meet The Locals

- Wild Dolphins
Encounter pods of Bottle Nose and Common Dolphins that can be seen up close. Enjoy them in their natural environment swimming up along side the boat, with numbers sometimes in the dozens. On many instances you'll see their baby calves.
- Fur Seals and Sea Lions
An abundance of New Zealand Fur Seals and Australian Sea Lions inhabit the coast that surrounds Kangaroo Island. These seals gather along the rocks enjoying the warm sun, resting after fishing for days on end and show off their agile swimming ability right before your eyes.
- Whales
Witness Southern Right Whales (seasonal) as they pass through these waters on their annual migration to the Great Australian Bight. Humpback Whales (seasonal) travel through the waters off the Dudley Peninsula and can sometimes be seen on a Kangaroo Island Ocean Safari. Marvel at these magnificent giant mammals of the sea.
- Sea Birds
There are many varieties of sea birds on the Safari including the unforgettable encounters with mighty Sea Eagles, Osprey and Wedge Tailed Eagles. Opportunities arise on this wildlife Safari to marvel at the eagle's diving into the ocean to grasp fish with their powerful talons. Cormorants and Gulls are abundant along the coast.
